SURCHARGES AND DISCOUNTS

AUTOMOBILE RATING PLAN - Applies to private passenger cars only.

Accident-Free Discount – Once your policy has been in force for at least three years with no chargeable accidents, you may qualify for our Accident-Free Discount. Once you qualify, this discount applies as long as there are no chargeable accidents, and may even increase over time.

Good Driving Discount - Newer policyholders who do not yet qualify for our Accident-Free Discount (available after three years with no chargeable accidents) may already be receiving a Good Driving Discount. This discount continues to apply until your policy qualifies for the Accident-Free Discount as long as there are no chargeable accidents and no new drivers. If you add new drivers, they must also qualify in order for your Good Driving Discount to continue.

Chargeable Accidents - For new business rating, an accident is chargeable if it results in $750 or more of damage to any property. For renewal business, an accident is chargeable as of the date State Farm pays at least $750 (for accidents occurring on or after April 1, 1999) under property damage liability and collision coverages for an at-fault accident.

Surcharges – If there are chargeable accidents, you may lose your Good Driving Discount or Accident-Free Discount and receive accident surcharges. But if the accident is the first to become chargeable in nine years and the vehicle (or the vehicle that it replaced) has been in force for at least that long, the Accident-Free Discount will continue and no surcharge will apply. The surcharge for each accident depends upon the number and timing of the accidents, and each accident surcharge will remain in effect up to three years.

Surcharges will be removed if the company is given satisfactory evidence that the driver involved is no longer a member of the household or will not be driving the car in the future. If that driver is insured on another State Farm policy, his or her driving record will be considered in the rating of the other policy.

These discounts and surcharges do not apply to all coverages. For complete details, see your State Farm agent.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Your insurance is required to provide underinsured motorist coverage that pays any damages due to an insured in addition to any bodily injury or property damage liability that is applicable to the insured's damages. You may choose to change the way your underinsured motorist coverage is calculated. Depending on the change, you may reduce the amount of coverage you have and your premium may change. Contact your agent or insurer for additional information.

Any request to change how your underinsured motorist coverage is calculated must be in writing. Once any named insured chooses to make such a change in the underinsured motorist coverage, that change is binding on all insureds on the policy. Any later changes you may wish to make to how your underinsured motorist coverage is calculated must also be in writing.

Before changing how your underinsured motorist coverage is calculated, you should carefully consider that this coverage provides important protection in the event you are injured or your motor vehicle is damaged due to the actions of an underinsured motorist.

Buying a new car? Remember to contact your agent!

When you buy an additional car or one that replaces a car already on your policy, you need to report the change to your agent promptly. Even though the dealership you purchased the car from may offer to notify your agent or insurance company, you, as the named insured, are responsible for reporting all changes to your auto policy. By contacting your agent, you can help:

- avoid any complications or lack of coverage in the event of an accident or loss,
- avoid insurance verification problems with a lienholder, the police, or the department of motor vehicles, and
- ensure that you receive any new discounts you may be entitled to.

Your current State Farm policy automatically provides certain coverages for a new or replacement car for up to a specified, limited number of days after you take possession of the car. Please refer to your policy for the number of days that applies in your state.

If you have any questions about coverage for a newly acquired car, please contact your State Farm agent.

Disclaimer: This message is provided for informational purposes only and does not grant any insurance coverage. The terms and conditions of coverage are set forth in your State Farm Car Policy booklet, the most recently issued Declarations Page, and any applicable endorsements.

Age, Gender, and Marital Status

An individual is considered married if living together with his or her spouse or if a widow or widower. A married couple temporarily living apart for reasons of health, occupation, military service, or similar circumstance shall be considered as living together. An individual is considered single if not classified as married.

Principal Driver

The principal driver is the individual who most frequently drives the private passenger automobile. Only one principal driver shall be designated for each automobile.

Assigned Driver

A driver is an assigned driver on the private passenger automobile in the household he or she most frequently drives. An automobile may have multiple assigned drivers, but an individual will only be assigned to one automobile.

Occasional Driver

A driver under the age of 25 is considered an occasional driver when he or she is assigned to the automobile and is not the principal driver of that car. If the principal driver is at least 25 years of age and only one occasional driver is assigned to the automobile, the Occasional Driver Adjustment will apply. If more than one driver under the age of 25 is assigned, the Occasional Driver Adjustment does not apply.

Military Service

An individual in military service shall not be considered an assigned driver of the automobile if located far enough from home so that he or she is only "at home" for short leaves. This only applies if the automobile remains at home while the individual is away.

Vehicle Usage

Private passenger automobiles shall be classified into one of the following vehicle uses:

Work, School or Pleasure Use – an automobile is considered to be used for work, school, or pleasure if it is used for any combination of the following (including its use in a car pool or other ride sharing agreement):

1. Driving to and from work
2. Driving to and from school
3. Driving part way to and from work or school
4. Personal pleasure

Business Use – an automobile is considered business use if 50% or more of the time or mileage use of the automobile is involved in the duties of the principal driver's or any other assigned driver's occupation, profession, or business, other than in going to and from the principal place of occupation, profession, or business.

Farm Use – an automobile is considered to be a farm automobile if it is:

1. Principally garaged on a farm or ranch,
2. Not ordinarily used
    a. In driving to and from school, or
    b. In driving to and from work other than farming or ranching; and,
3. Not used in any occupation other than farming or ranching.

Estimated Average Annual Mileage

Private passenger automobiles shall be classified as short annual mileage or long annual mileage in accordance with the table below. With respect to business use automobiles, the estimated average total annual mileage shall be the sum of business use and pleasure mileage.

Private Passenger Automobile Use	Estimated Average Total Annual Mileage Classification
	Short	Long
Work, School, or Pleasure	7,500 miles or less	More than 7,500 miles
Farm Automobile	7,500 miles or less	More than 7,500 miles
Used for Business	12,000 miles or less	More than 12,000 miles

The following premium reductions are available for private passenger cars. If you have questions, please contact your State Farm agent.

Accident-Free Discount

If a car (or the car which it may have replaced) has been continuously in force with State Farm for at least three years without a chargeable accident during this period, you will receive a 15% Accident-Free Discount on the premiums for Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability, Medical Expense Benefits, Income Loss Benefits, and Collision Coverages.

This discount increases to 20% if the car (or the car which it may have replaced) has been in force for six years and to 25% if the car (or the car which it may have replaced) has been in force for ten years so long as there have been no chargeable accidents during these periods.

If more than one car is insured under the same policy, each car is treated separately. This discount applies so long as the car (or the car which it replaces) continues to be covered in the same state by the State Farm policy and the policy remains in force and there are no chargeable accidents.

If there has been a chargeable accident and the policy has been in force for at least nine years and there have been no chargeable accidents during the nine years preceding the date the accident becomes chargeable, the discount will continue. Otherwise, the occurrence of a chargeable accident results in the loss of the discount; however, the normal charge for that accident will be:

1. Waived if the discount being received was 20% or 25% or
2. Reduced to 5% if the discount was 15%

   so long as there are no other chargeable accidents during the three-year experience period.

A chargeable accident that occurs within nine years of one for which the discount was not previously removed will be subject to the latter provisions. If a policy is reinstated, any discount applicable at the time of expiration or cancellation will be applied, provided the reinstatement occurs within five years and there have been no accidents during this period which State Farm determines to have been the fault of the owner or operator of the automobile being insured.

SURCHARGE PERCENTAGES

Your accident record is a determining factor in the amount you pay for insurance on your private passenger car. Policyholders without accidents benefit from lower State Farm rates, while those with recent accidents pay more for car insurance. Surcharges for chargeable accidents are determined in accordance with the following:

New Business Rating – A 10% surcharge shall apply if, in the three-year period prior to the date of application, there are any chargeable accidents. The surcharge shall apply for a period of not more than three years, but it will not apply to any policy period that begins more than three years from the date of the accident.

An accident shall be considered chargeable if it resulted in damage to any property in the amount of $750 or more.

Subsequent Rating (renewals) – An accident is chargeable if State Farm paid $750 or more ($400 or more if the accident occurred prior to April 1, 1999) under the Property Damage Liability Coverage and Collision Coverage combined.

In the event of a multiple vehicle accident, property damage liability payment must be present for a claim to be considered chargeable.

The surcharge for each chargeable accident is 10%, 30%, or 50%, depending on the number and timing of the accidents. The surcharge is 10% for the first chargeable accident if there are no other chargeable accidents during the preceding three years; an additional 30% if there is one other chargeable accident during the preceding three years and the charge for it is 10%; and an additional 50% for each subsequent accident within a three-year period. The surcharge applicable during a policy period is the total of the separate charges for the individual accidents which become chargeable during the three-year period ending two months prior to the beginning of that policy period. The amount (%) of surcharge moves up or down on the basis of additional chargeable accidents or periods of accident-free driving. For the purpose of determining these charges, accidents shall be assigned to the car (or its replacement) customarily driven by the driver who was driving at the time of the accident. Each charge shall apply for a period of three years from the renewal date on which it is originally applied. However, no charge will apply during any policy period that exceeds four years from the accident date.

Defensive Driving Course Discount

A 5% discount on the base premiums for Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability, Medical Expense Benefits, Income Loss Benefits, and Collision Coverages applies when the principal driver is age 55 or over and successfully completes (every three years) a Motor Vehicle Accident Prevention Course that has been approved by the Department of Motor Vehicles. If the driver is the principal operator of more than one car, the discount applies to all such vehicles.

Drive Safe & Save™ Program Discount

You can receive a discount on your premium by participating in the Drive Safe & Save Program. The Drive Safe & Save Program Discount recognizes how much and, in some cases, how safely the vehicle is driven. There are several ways you can participate depending on the vehicle you drive. You will receive an initial participation discount just for enrolling. At each six-month renewal, the discount will be adjusted based on information collected from your car. Contact your State Farm agent or visit statefarm.com/drivesafeandsave for details.

Farm Utility Discount

A pickup, van, or sportwagon/sport utility vehicle that is principally garaged on a farm and used mostly by the insured in the operation or maintenance of farm premises and the estimated annual mileage is 2,000 miles or less receives a reduced rate.

Renewal Only

Good Driving Discount

For new business policies, the Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability, Medical Expense Benefits, Income Loss Benefits, and Collision Coverages base premiums shall be reduced 10% if each of the drivers in the household has had no moving violations and no at-fault accidents during the past three years.

Newly acquired added cars do not have to meet the requirements for new business policies if: (1) at least one car in the household is receiving the Good Driving Discount or an Accident-Free Discount, (2) each of the drivers in the household have had no at-fault accidents during the past three years, and (3) no drivers have been added within 60 days before or after the application.

The Good Driving Discount will continue to apply until the car (or the car which it replaces) qualifies for the Accident-Free Discount so long as the policy remains in force and there are no chargeable accidents and no additional drivers.

If State Farm is furnished evidence that the driver who prevented the Good Driving Discount from initially being applied is no longer a member of the household and will no longer be a driver of the car, then the discount may be added, if all of the requirements are met at the time the driver moves.

Good Student Discount

A discount is available for eligible students who satisfy one of the following qualifications:

1. The driver is enrolled as a full-time student in high school or academic courses in a college or university and has achieved a Qualifying Scholastic Record.
2. The driver has earned a high school diploma or equivalent with a Qualifying Scholastic Record.
3. The driver has earned a Bachelor's Degree or equivalent with a Qualifying Scholastic Record.
4. The driver has earned an Associate's Degree or equivalent with a Qualifying Scholastic Record.
5. The driver has earned a Bachelor's Degree or equivalent but did not achieve a Qualifying Scholastic Record.

A Qualifying Scholastic Record for students enrolled in public or private schools consists of maintaining at least a "B"or equivalent grade average for the immediately preceding term or comparable segment. Home study students can also qualify for this discount if they meet certain additional eligibility requirements.

All drivers under the age of 25 who are assigned to the automobile must qualify for the discount in order for the discount to be applied to the automobile.

Multiple Automobiles Discount

Policyholders (who are related by blood, marriage or adoption) in the same household who insure more than one private passenger car with State Farm will receive our multiple automobiles discount. The discount also applies to a private passenger car if both the car and a motor home in the same household are insured with State Farm.

Multiple Line Discount

The premiums for Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability, Medical Expense Benefits, Income Loss Benefits, Comprehensive, and Collision Coverages shall be reduced by the percentage shown below if the person(s) named on the automobile policy is also the named insured or owner of another policy as follows:

- 2% if the qualifying policy is a renter's policy covering the named insured's principal residence.
- 5% if the qualifying policy is an individual life insurance policy (excluding all annuities, all tax qualified life insurance products, and paid-up life insurance with a face value of less than $5,000) or an individual health insurance policy (excluding Disability Income Payment Protection Plan, Individual Credit Disability Income, Short Term Hospital Surgical, and Medicare Part D Prescription Drug Plan).
- 5% if the qualifying policy is a manufactured home policy covering the named insured's principal residence.

The Medical Expense Benefits and Income Loss Benefits Coverages base premiums applicable to a private passenger automobile shall be reduced by the following amount if the automobile is equipped with a factory-installed air bag or other passive restraint system which meets federal safety standards.

Type of System	Discount
Automatic Front Seat Belts (Front)	10%
Air Bag (Driver Side Only)	20%
Air Bag (Driver and Passenger Side)	30%
Air Bag and Automatic Seat Belts (Driver and Passenger Side)	40%

Steer Clear® Safe Driver Discount

In addition, all drivers under the age of 25 who are assigned to the automobile must have no at-fault accidents or moving violations in the three-year period prior to the time the discount is initially applied. The activities in the Steer Clear program include watching a video presentation, reading a safe-driving magazine, and completing a driver's log to document driving experience. This discount will be removed if the youthful driver has an at-fault accident or moving violations.

All drivers under the age of 25 who are assigned to the automobile must qualify for the discount in order for the discount to be applied to the automobile.

If your credit history was adversely influenced by certain life events, please talk to your agent about requesting an additional review of your information. Examples of such life events may include, but are not limited to, serious illness or injury, death of an immediate family member, temporary loss of employment, divorce, military deployment overseas, or identity theft. Or, if the information in your consumer report is incomplete or inaccurate, you have the right to dispute it with LexisNexis. If a correction is made as a result of your dispute, please tell your agent so State Farm may reconsider its decision.

The premium associated with the use of credit has increased. Our use of credit information from the consumer report determines insurance risk, but not credit risk. Please refer to your Auto Renewal for information about factors that affect your premium. In addition to consumer report information, these factors include the coverages you have, where you live, the kind of car you drive, how your car is used, who drives the car, and the likelihood of future claims. But you have the most competitive rate State Farm can offer you at this time.

The names and addresses of any institutional sources that supplied this information are listed above. In order to obtain this information in the future, you may make a written request for it. Here is the procedure:

   d. provide you with a summary of the procedures by which you may request correction, amendment or deletion of recorded personal information.

2. State Farm may charge you a reasonable fee to cover the costs incurred in providing you with a copy of recorded personal information. If the information applies to reasons for an adverse underwriting decision, there will be no charge.

3. In some circumstances, our obligations to you regarding access to recorded personal information may be satisfied by referring you to an insurance-support organization.

4. Access to recorded personal information may be denied to the extent that the information is collected in connection with or in reasonable anticipation of a claim or civil or criminal proceeding.

Finally, we want you to know you have the following rights in regard to the correction, amendment or deletion of recorded personal information:
